Silver Bow County

3 0864 0016 1976 9

Located in southwestern Montana, Silver Bow County is Montana's seventh most populous with 33,941 residents, according to the 1990 Census. The county of Silver Bow and the city of Butte are consolidated under an elected executive form of government.

Butte, the county seat, is the state's fourth largest city with a population of 33,336. Nicknamed the "Mining City," Butte is rich in mining resources. Residents have endured harsh economic times and earned the nickname the "Can Do City" by building a stronger local economy and soliciting new businesses to the area. The city is also a major transportation, manufacturing and utility center.

According to the Montana Almanac, by authors Andrea Merrill and Judy Jacobson, the county was established in 1881 and may have been named after Silver Bow Creek, where according to legend, "three prospectors saw a shaft of sun shining on the creek."

According to the U.S. Bureau of the Census, median income for Silver Bow County households in 1989 was $21,216. The county is 719 square miles in area; 718.3 square miles in land area and less than 0.665 in inland water area.

County residents experience the four distinct seasons. According to the Montana Almanac, the average daily low in January between 1980 and 1989 was 4.2 degrees above zero. The average daily high in July was 80.1 and average January snowfall 8.1 inches. The annual precipitation in 1995 was 19.26 inches and the length of the growing season 50 days.

PLEASE NOTE: Because of time and budget constraints, we are only able to update our county flyers periodically. Individual tables are updated on a more frequent basis. You can call us if you'd like the most current information for a particular county. The Annual Averages for County Employment By Industry are updated annually, usually in June. The Top Employers are updated annually. Per Capita Income statewide is usually released late spring and county data around August each year. Population data for Montana is usually released in March and county data may be released at a different time. The Annual Average Labor Force information is benchmarked annually and numbers available before March. The other tables contain Census information and will be updated every 10 years. You can also look for more current information on our website listed on the front of this publication.
